FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

READING PUBLIC LIBRARY

PRESENTING “TECHTACULAR”

A TECHNOLOGY FAIR FOR ALL AGES

Reading, PA Monday, January 15, 2018 – Reading Public Library is holding its inaugural “TechTacular” on Saturday, January 27 from 11am to 2 pm at the Main Library, 100 S. Fifth Street. A variety of technology-related activities will be featured throughout the library.

Bring your smartphones, I-Pads, Kindles and more to the Reference Department and learn about the library’s free e-media resources and how to set them up on your device.

Visit the Teen Library Loft to learn about the library’s exciting new partnership with Girls Who Code, a national coding sisterhood. Sign up on the spot.

Play with TechToys and learn how to create your own YouTube videos in the Children's Library.

All ages are welcome. Pre-registration is not required and all activities are free.
