

Your Next Read: Nature Edition

Take a peek at the titles below for some inspiration to get out in nature as the weather warms up!

If You
Read:

Read
This Next:

At Main Branch

For the Culture
Discussing stories by authors of color

 Read God Help the Child by Toni Morrison.

This fiery and provocative novel from the acclaimed Nobel Prize winner weaves a tale about the way the sufferings of childhood can shape, and misshape, the life of the adult.

Reading Public Library
Foundation Building
113 S 4th St
Reading, PA

Friday, June 9, 2023 at 6PM

At Southeast Branch

Come learn about the different birds you can find in your backyard and throughout the City of Reading. Find out which birds migrate through the area, good spots to go birding and tips when identifying birds.

Monday, May 22
5:30 pm- 6:30 pm
Presenter: Bill Uhrich
Southeast Branch Library

1426 Perkiomen Avenue
Reading, PA 19602

FOR ALL AGES

CELEBRITY BARTENDER EVENT
READING PUBLIC LIBRARY

Wednesday, May 17, 5-8 pm
at Saucony Creek
Franklin Station Brewpub

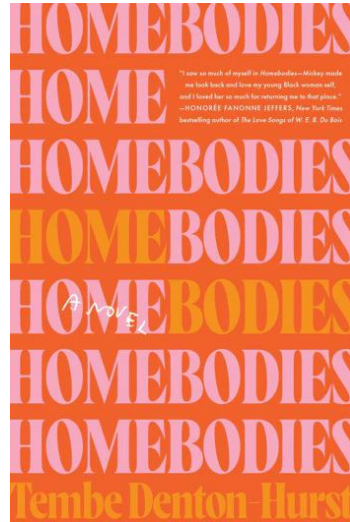

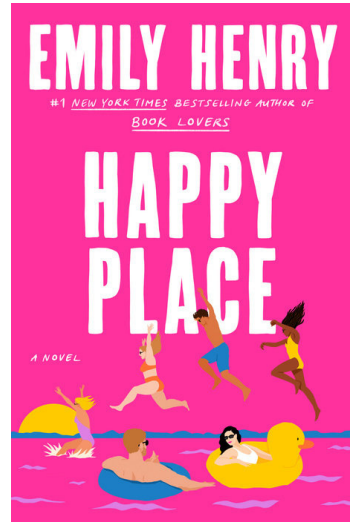

Appetizers provided by Saucony Creek

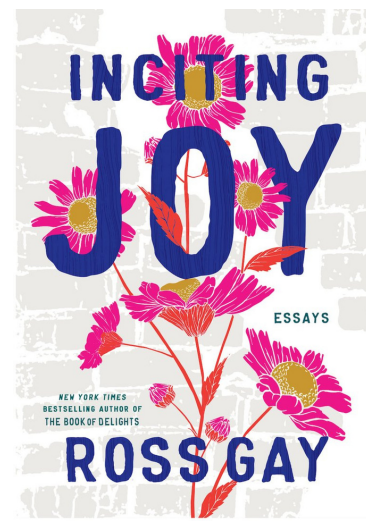

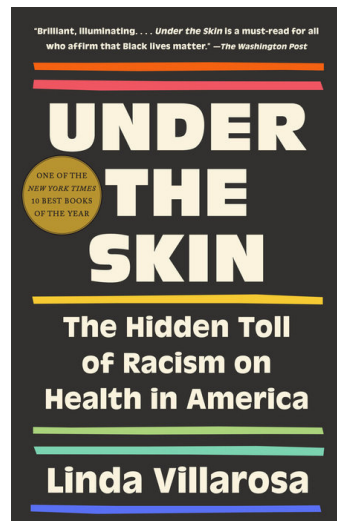

New Titles

These items can be requested at the Main Library Reference Desk or at any branch library.

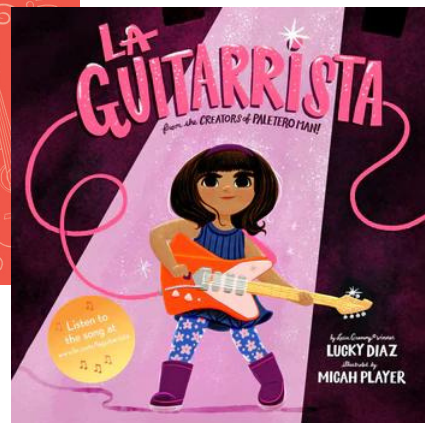

Adult Fiction

Adult Non-Fiction

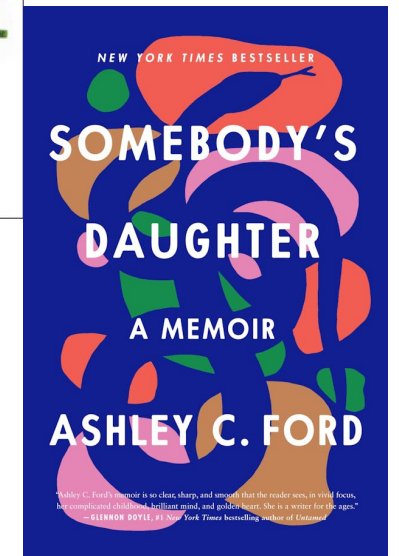

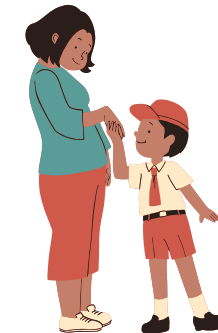

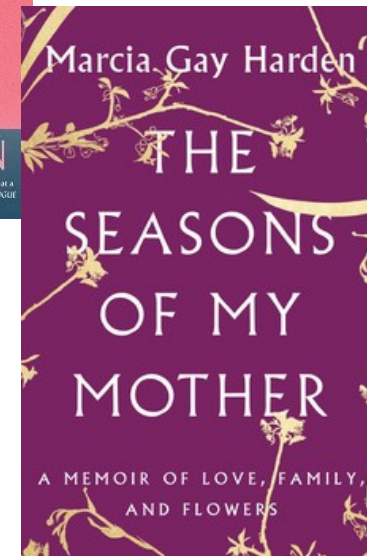

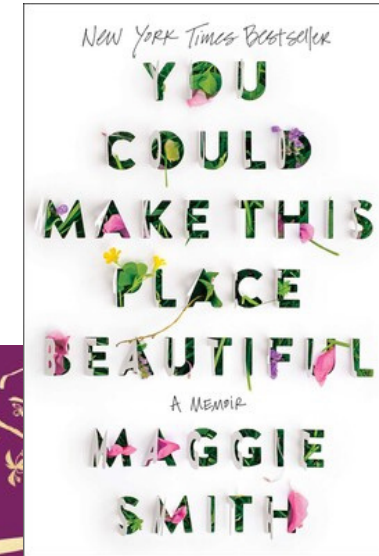

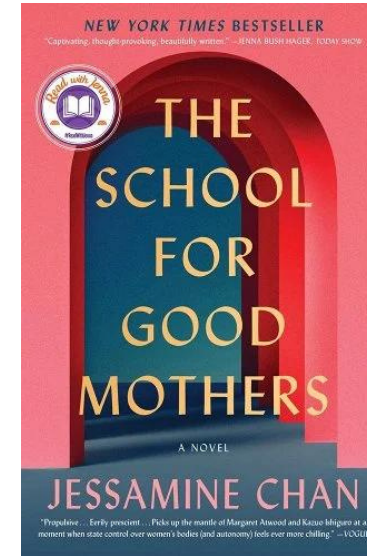

Children's Books

DVDs

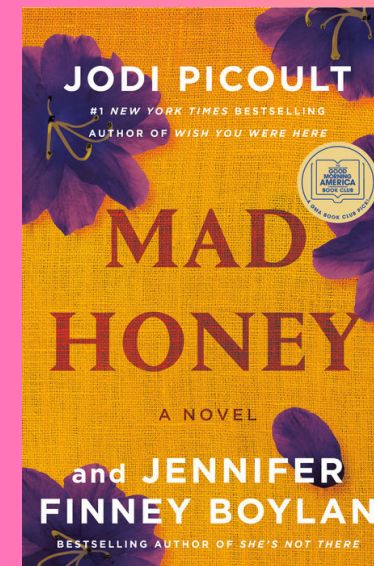

Books for the Moms in Your Life

Have a mom in your life that needs a literary pick-me-up (or emotional roller coaster)? Check out the recommendations below!

Staff Recommendations

Rachel Constein at Northeast Branch

Current Reads

Daniella at Southeast Branch

