

PROFESSOR DAVE KAUL

Dave Kaul's journey began at 12 when he created his first computer adventure game, sparking a lifelong passion for computer graphics. With degrees from Syracuse University and Ohio State University, he interned at Industrial Light and Magic, worked at Metrolight Studios, and contributed to projects like a Dodge commercial for the Superbowl and the Mask CD-ROM. Dave now teaches Game Development at Albright College, sharing his expertise with students.

He's also owned a digital media company, serving clients like Fisher Price and architects. His expertise in Maya Dynamics and 3D visualization has earned him accolades and made him a sought-after industry expert. Dave lives with his wife and four cats, enjoying a fulfilling career and sharing his knowledge with others.
